

FastLane Advisory – October 21, 2013

Information about the impacts of the government shutdown on NSF panels, funding opportunity deadlines and project reports

A Continuing Resolution is in place for NSF effective Thursday, October 17, 2013. NSF systems are up and operational.

Additionally:

- 1) Deadlines for proposals originally due between October 1-25 will be revised. The revised deadlines will be communicated as soon as possible via FastLane as well as other electronic methods.
- 2) Project reports that became overdue during the shutdown should be submitted via Research.gov as soon as possible.
- 3) No decisions have been made regarding panels that did not occur because of the government shutdown. Please check FastLane and Research.gov soon for additional information.
