NATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION

Privacy Act of 1974; New System of Records agency: National Science Foundation.

action: Notice of new system of records and routine uses.

New System of Records

Pursuant to the Privacy Act of 1974 (5 U.S.C. 552a), the National Science Foundation is providing notice of a new system of records--NSF-58, "National Survey of Recent College Graduates and Follow-up File."

This system is established and maintained by the National Science Foundation, the U.S. Department of Energy and their present and future contractors (present contractors include the U.S. Bureau of Census and Westat, Inc.). The system is used as a source for measuring the new entrants into the science and engineering workforce and for providing information on indicators related to the science and engineering workforce, as required by congressional mandate. The system is also used to report on the participation rates of women and minorities in scientific and technical fields, as required by congressional mandate.

Effective date: Section 552a(e) (4) and (11) of Title 5 of the U.S. Code provides the public thirty days to comment on the routine uses of systems of records. The new system of records and its routine uses will become effective 30 days after publication of this notice, unless comments are received on or before that date that would result in a contrary decision. In this case a notice will be published to that effect.

Comments: Written comments should be addressed to the NSF Privacy Act Officer, Office of Information and Resource Management, National Science Foundation, Room 485, 4201 Wilson Blvd., Arlington, VA 22230.

Dated: January 30, 1995.

Herman G. Fleming,
Privacy Act Officer.

Record that make up this system may be kept in multiple locations:
National Science Foundation, 4201 Wilson Blvd., Arlington, VA 22230:
U.S. Department of Energy, 1000 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, DC 20585, U.S. Bureau of Census, Washington, DC 20233, and Westat, Inc., 1550 Research Blvd., Rockville, MD 20850.

The system includes a sample of individuals holding bachelor's and master's degrees from U.S. institutions in science and engineering degree fields.

Educational, professional, and demographic characteristics of degree holders including name, age, race, ethnicity, sex, disability, and country of birth, social security number, occupational information, labor force status, professional activities, academic degrees, earlier education, continuing education, marital status, spouse's employment status, number and ages of children living at home, parent's educational attainment, citizenship.

National Science Foundation Act of 1950, as amended, 42 U.S.C. 1862(a)(6), 1863(j)(1), 1885d.

This system is used as a source of information on the characteristics of individuals with bachelor's and master's degrees in science and engineering in the United States. The system is used as a source for measuring the new entrants into the science and engineering workforce. The system is used to provide information on indicators related to the science and engineering workforce, as required by congressional mandate. The system is also used to report on the participation rates of women and minorities in scientific and technical fields, as required by congressional mandate. It is also used by researchers interested in policy issues related to the scientific and engineering workforce.

Disclosure of the records may be made to the Federal sponsors listed under "System location" above, their contractors and collaborating researchers and their staff for the purpose of analyzing data, preparing reports, writing articles, and preparing public use data tapes in order to accomplish the research purpose for which the records are collected. Disclosure of certain data on records (including name, address, phone number, academic institution, degree type) are also made to present and future contractors to conduct longitudinal surveys of individuals included in the system. All users of the data are required to comply by the requirements of the Privacy Act with respect to such records.

Computer tapes with identifying information on individuals and questionnaires are kept by the National Science Foundation, the U.S. Department of Energy, U.S. Bureau of Census, and Westat, Inc.

Alphabetically by last name of individual.

Data are kept in secured areas with access limited to authorized personnel. Questionnaires in paper copy are kept in locked cabinets. Published findings and computer tapes are in formats which preclude individual identification.

Computer tapes are kept indefinitely by the U.S. Bureau of Census and Westat, Inc. and the other sponsors in fulfilling the responsibilities described under "Purposes".

Division Director, Science Resources Studies, National Science Foundation, 4201 Wilson Blvd., Arlington, VA 22230.

The NSF Privacy Act Officer should be contacted in accordance with procedures found at 45 CFR part 613.

See "Notification procedure" above.

Most information was obtained voluntarily from individuals. Initial identifying information was also voluntarily obtained from colleges and/or universities and individuals.

None.
