Rotational Vacancy

ANNOUNCEMENT NO: E20040055A-Rotator

OPEN: 03/25/2004

CLOSE: 05/21/2004

ANNOUNCEMENT HAS BEEN AMENDED TO EXTEND THE CLOSING DATE TO 05/21/2004.

APPLICANTS WHO PREVIOUSLY APPLIED UNDER VACANCY ANNOUNCEMENT E20040040-ROTATOR WILL BE CONSIDERED AND NEED NOT RESUBMIT.

POSITION WILL BE FILLED ON A ONE OR TWO YEAR VISITING SCIENTIST APPOINTMENT, INTERGOVERNMENTAL PERSONNEL ACT (IPA) ASSIGNMENT OR FEDERAL TEMPORARY APPOINTMENT.

The National Science Foundation is seeking a qualified candidate for the position of Program Director for Theoretical Physics, in particular Nuclear Theory and Mathematical Physics within the Division of Physics, Directorate for Mathematical and Physical Sciences, Arlington, VA. The appointment is expected to start in September 2004.

The Division of Physics (PHY) supports a wide range of activities in the different sub-fields of physics. The primary mode of funding is to individual investigators or small groups. The division also funds the operation of two large-scale accelerator facilities (the Cornell Electron Storage Ring and the Michigan State University National Superconducting Cyclotron Laboratory), the Laser Interferometer Gravity Wave Observatory, several smaller scale accelerators, a number of centers in atomic, molecular, and optical physics and in theoretical physics; and a new program of Physics Frontiers Centers. More information about the Division and their programs can be found on their website at www.nsf.gov/mps/divisions/phy/start.htm.

The Theoretical Physics Program supports the development of qualitative and quantitative understanding of fundamental physical systems, ranging from the most elementary constituents of matter through nuclei and atoms to astrophysical objects. This includes formulating new approaches for theoretical, computational, and experimental research that explore the fundamental laws of physics and the behavior of physical systems; formulating quantitative hypotheses; exploring and analyzing the implications of such hypotheses computationally; and, in some cases, interpreting the results of experiments. Support is given for research in the following areas: elementary particle physics; nuclear physics; atomic, molecular, optical, and plasma physics; astrophysics and cosmology; and a broad spectrum of topics in mathematical physics, computational physics, nonlinear dynamics, chaos, and statistical physics. The effort also includes a considerable number of interdisciplinary grants.

In addition, the program supports infrastructure activities such as the Kavli Institute for Theoretical Physics at the University of California at Santa Barbara, the Harvard-Smithsonian Institute for Theoretical Atomic, Molecular, and Optical Physics, and the Aspen Center for Physics. These activities include both short- and long-term visitor programs, workshops, and research involving the participation of external scientist from universities, national laboratories, and industry, as well as graduate students and postdoctoral fellows.

This position will be filled on a one or two year Visiting Scientist Appointment, an IPA assignment, or as a Federal Temporary Appointment. Temporary and Visiting Scientist appointments will be made under the Excepted Authority of the NSF Act with a current salary range of $85,210 - $132,791, depending on qualifications and experience. For Visiting Scientist appointments, individuals are in a non-pay leave status from the home institution and are appointed to NSF's payroll as a Federal employee. NSF withholds FICA and provides reimbursement for fringe benefits. For Federal temporary appointments of more than one year, the usual civil service benefits (retirement, health and life insurance) are applicable. For IPA assignments, the individual remains an employee on the payroll of his or her home institution and the institution continues to administer pay and benefits. NSF reimburses the institution for NSF's negotiated share of the costs. Individuals eligible for an IPA assignment include employees of State and local government agencies, institutions of higher education, Indian tribal governments, federally funded research and development centers and qualified nonprofit organizations. For more information regarding Visiting Scientist appointments, visit our website at www.nsf.gov/jobs.

DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES: As Program Director, directs in the implementation, review, funding, post-award management, and evaluation of the program and contributes to the intellectual integration with other programs supported by the Division. Designs and implements the proposal review and evaluation process for relevant proposals. Selects well qualified individuals to provide objective reviews on proposals either as individuals or as members of a panel. Conducts final review of proposals and evaluations, and recommends acceptance or declination. Manages and monitors on-going grants, contracts, interagency and cooperative agreements to ensure fulfillment of commitments to NSF. Evaluates progress of awards through review and evaluation of reports and publications submitted by awardees and/or meetings at NSF and during site visits. Contributes to the responsibility for establishing and meeting goals and objectives including those for human resource development, initiating new program thrusts and phasing out old projects. Recommends new or revised policies and plans in scientific, fiscal, and administrative matters to improve the activities and management of the Program.

QUALIFICATIONS REQUIRED: Applicants must possess a Ph.D. or equivalent experience in theoretical nuclear physics or a closely related field. In addition, six or more years of successful research, research administration, and/or managerial experience pertinent to the program is required.

HOW TO APPLY: Applications may be transmitted electronically to rotator@nsf.gov. Individuals may also submit a resume or any application of your choice to the National Science Foundation, Division of Human Resource Management, 4201 Wilson Blvd., Arlington, VA 22230, Attn: E20040055A-Rotator. In addition, you are encouraged to submit a narrative statement that addresses your background and/or experience related to the Program of your interest. You are asked to complete and submit the attached Applicant Survey form. Submission of this form is voluntary and will not affect your application for employment (the information is used for statistical purposes). Inquiries may be referred to Maria Sutton, at (703) 292-4364 or msutton@nsf.gov. Hearing impaired individuals may call TDD (703) 292-8044.

The National Science Foundation provides reasonable accommodations to applicants with disabilities on a case-by-case basis. If you need a reasonable accommodation for any part of the application and hiring process, please notify the point of contact listed on this vacancy announcement.
