

TABLE A-2. Subfields of study included in engineering fields, by degree, data year, and survey year of report

Degree, data year, and included subfields	Reports for pre-2007 surveys						Reports for 2007 and later surveys
	Chemical engineering	Civil engineering	Electrical engineering	Materials science	Mechanical engineering	Other engineering	Chemical engineering	Civil engineering	Electrical engineering	Materials science	Mechanical engineering	Other engineering
Doctorate
1998 and earlier
More than 1 subfield	■	■	■	■	■	■
One subfield							■	■	■	■	■
Reclassified subfields <sup>a</sup>												■
2000 and later
More than 1 subfield	■	■	■	■	■	■
One subfield							■	■	■	■	■
Reclassified subfields <sup>a</sup>												■
Bachelor's and master's
1998 and earlier
More than 1 subfield	■	■	■	■	■	■	■	■	■	■	■	■
One subfield
Reclassified subfields <sup>a</sup>
2000 and later
More than 1 subfield	■	■	■	■	■	■
One subfield							■	■	■	■	■
Reclassified subfields <sup>a</sup>												■

<sup>a</sup> Contains subfields formerly included in the five major engineering fields that are now included in other engineering.

NOTE: Engineering degrees are reported in the following tables: chemical, table 48; civil, table 49; electrical, table 50; materials science, table 52; mechanical, table 53; and other engineering, table 54.